

RETAIL SALES & CUSTOMER BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS

$251.5 million. 99,457 orders. One SQL project.

I dug through every transaction to find where the money is, who spends it, and how to get more.

BUILT WITH POSTGRESQL

[SAKSHAM SINGLA]

Data is useless until it makes a decision.

I set out to answer four questions.

Where does the money come from?

Categories and malls.

Who is spending it?

Gender and age.

How do they pay?

Which customers are worth chasing?

Two datasets. One join.

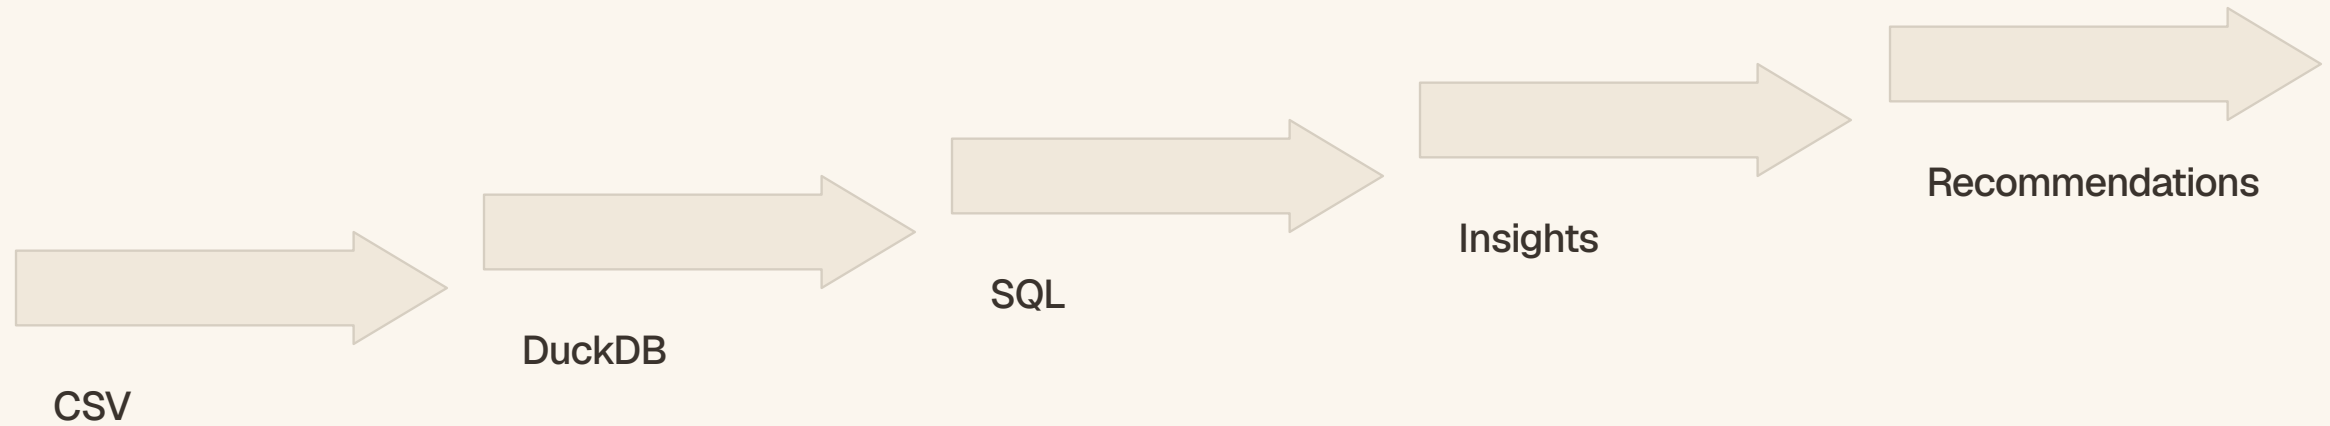

Joined on `customer_id`.

SALES DATA

Invoice, category, quantity, price, date, mall.

CUSTOMER DATA

Gender, age, payment method.

TOTAL REVENUE

$251.51M

These are not small baskets. This is a high-ticket business, and every decision here moves millions.

99,457 orders analyzed. $2,528.79 average order value.

Clothing is a $114M machine.

Three categories ≈95% of all revenue. Double down on these three.

$113.99M

CLOTHING · 45%

Shoes $66.55M, 26%

Technology $57.86M, 23%

Two malls. 40% of the revenue.

Protect these locations and invest where the return is proven.

Mall

$101M

TOP TWO MALLS

Mall of Istanbul beats Kanyon by $320K.

Women drive 60% of revenue.

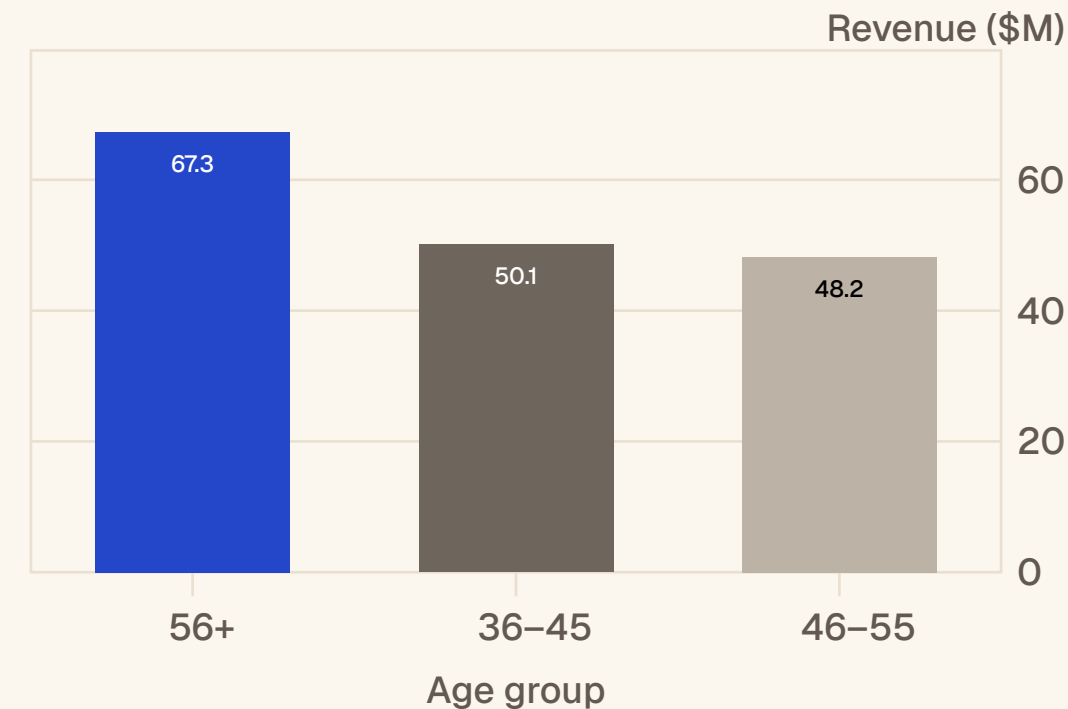

Target women and customers over 35 first.

REVENUE BY GENDER ($M)

Female ≈60%, Male ≈40%.

SELECTED AGE GROUPS ($M)

45% of revenue still moves as cash.

Test card rewards and digital incentives to encourage loyalty enrollment and repeat sales.

$112.83M

CASH · 45%

$88.08M

CREDIT CARD · 35%

$50.60M

DEBIT CARD · 20%

56% fall in the low-value segment.

Test loyalty programs and upsell offers to move customers up one tier.

Segment

LOW · 56%

Under $1,000

MEDIUM · 28%

$1,000–$3,000

HIGH · 16%

Above $3,000

VALIDATE DISTINCT CUSTOMER_ID COUNTS BEFORE TREATING THESE AS UNIQUE CUSTOMERS.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Here's how to grow this business.

- 01 Go all-in on Clothing & Shoes: approximately 72% of revenue.
- 02 Convert the Low Value 56% with loyalty programs and upsell offers.
- 03 Target women and over-35 shoppers with personalized campaigns.
- 04 Back Mall of Istanbul & Kanyon.
- 05 Test card rewards and digital incentives.

